Steve,

The WHOI website may have some useful info through one of the links on this page. <http://www.whoi.edu/page.do?pid=7121>

Much is information on equipment and includes pictures but with many there are related videos and links as well. Probably nothing too specific to deployments though.

Thank you for the support. I did find some videos on YouTube of deck operations. Below you will find a link to the compilation. This will be presented at a quarterly shipyard meeting for the Sikuliaq to help the shipyard understand overboard operations tasked to the vessel. Found some piston coring videos on YouTube but nothing that clearly showed deployment and recovery operations. Any footage of piston coring would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you

Please note the videos used in this compilation were found on YouTube and other public website. I give all created to the individuals who created the footage, the vessels that supported the operations, the scientist, and the funding agencies. It is being posted solely for educational purposes. File will be pulled if anyone objects.
